

KISMET

*Opal fires in the Western Sky
(For that which is written must ever be)
And a bullet comes droning, whining by,
To the heart of a sentry close to me.*

*For some go early and some go late
(a dying scream on the evening air)
And who is there that believes in Fate
As a soul goes out in the sunset flare?*

R.B. MARRIOTT-WATSON, killed in action 1918
